

Master of Cybersecurity Curriculum

This document describes the curriculum of a Master of Cybersecurity program.

Core courses include network security, cryptography, secure software development, digital forensics and penetration testing. Students complete 120 credits.

Program Overview

The program prepares students for careers in information security.

Learning Outcomes

Graduates will be able to design and evaluate secure systems.